Hey kids!

We want to make our local communities great for children. So who better to ask than you?

Tips for adults:

- The main role of the adult is to LISTEN and recognise that children are experts about their own lives.
- If possible, work with the children in small groups to start a conversation about their local community. Use this worksheet to collate ideas.
- You can either write/draw the suggestions on the page, or ask the children to do that themselves.
  - Older children may prefer to do this individually.
- Once you've collected the children's views, pass this on to your local council. It would be great if you could also take a photo and email to childrensvoicesproject@napcan.org.au. For more ideas, visit the Children's Voices Project page at www.napcan.org.au.
