STRATEGIC PLAN 2018-2023

NAPCAN

WHY A STRATEGIC PLAN?

A strategic plan allows us to share our vision and priorities directly with all of those who matter most to our work. The children, families and communities who we hope will benefit from our diligent efforts, the many partners who are working beside us to achieve similar outcomes, and those who have an interest in helping us achieve our goals. Through this document we hope to capture the essence of our work and the areas where we will focus in the coming years.

FOREWORD FROM THE CHAIR AND CEO

For more than 30 years NAPCAN has been a lead agency in raising awareness of child abuse and neglect in Australia.

What has always distinguished NAPCAN's work has been a committed focus on promoting awareness of how to prevent child abuse and neglect BEFORE it starts. We have done this by providing individuals, communities, organisations and governments with strategies for action.

In taking a primary prevention focus to enhance the safety and wellbeing of all children and young people, NAPCAN has utilised two key evidence-informed approaches. These are a public health model and an ecological framework. A public health model demonstrates the value of investing in preventative strategies to reduce the burden of an issue over time. It raises awareness of risk and protective factors that can reduce the likelihood of abuse and neglect occurring. By using an ecological framework, NAPCAN works to embed these primary prevention strategies at all levels of society, from the individual child, young person and family, through to the creation of child safe communities and organisations. It also involves influencing government policy and changing community values, attitudes and behaviour towards children and young people.

We recognise that real change can only come about through the dedicated and collective efforts of many individuals, communities and organisations. NAPCAN's work extends across Australia, from metropolitan and regional areas to remote communities. Our remarkable achievements to date are a result of meaningful partnerships with a range of organisations both large and small across the country, working together to create better futures for all children.

NAPCAN's Six Year Strategic Plan (2018-2023) outlines the steps we are taking as an organisation to fulfil our Vision and Mission to promote and support prevention of violence, abuse and neglect of children and young people, and enhance their chance to live a safe, healthy and happy childhood where they are valued and loved.

ABOUT NAPCAN / WHO WE ARE

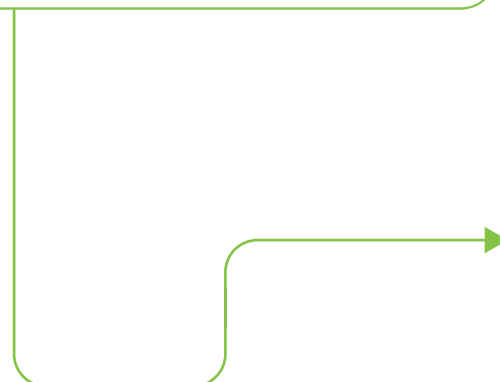

We're Australia's first secular not-for-profit organisation to focus entirely on the prevention of child abuse and neglect before it starts.

Rosemary Sinclair, who played a key role in founding NAPCAN in 1987 and continues to support NAPCAN today, saw that the abuse and neglect of children remained a taboo topic in Australian society in the 1980s. She was determined to change this and create safer communities for children. She set about to achieve this vision with the assistance of a passionate team of volunteers and a range of influential and committed partners.

Since those days we have remained dedicated to bringing the eradication of child abuse and neglect to the forefront of Australian society. We are a national organisation with 25 full and part time staff delivering services across Australia, working with thousands of volunteers trained to deliver our programs. Our passionate and capable staff work under the guidance of a highly experienced and diverse Board of Directors. We work with all levels of government, businesses, community services and organisations, families and individuals for the betterment of children and young people in our shared community.

Our aim is to help children, young people and their families by enabling everyone in society to play a part in keeping children safe and well. We do this by influencing social change, enabling communities to act locally and maximising our organisational capacity.
